McKinney Will Arrive But Will Go on to the Works.

IS SENTENCED FOR STEALING.

He Gets 30 Days and $100 Which Will Keep Him Out of Deviltry For Some Time-Orson Luck, Who Escaped, Has Not Been Apprehended.

William McKinney of Canton, who was indicted by the Tuscarawas county grand jury for larceny, was taken before the court at New Philadelphia Wednesday for sentence, having pleaded guilty at his arraignment Monday. Judge Douthitt sentenced him to 30 days in the workhouse and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

McKinney is the man who was shot by John Warner's bired man in a cornfield on Warner's farm near Lockport several weeks ago, while in company with five other men, one of whom, Ed. Henderson, an ex-convict of Canton, was afterward arrested and discharged. The morning after the shooting McKinney was found in a room over Swihart's saloon, in company with Orson Lusk and other men. His five companions left that vicinity immediately after the shooting, taking with them four horses and two vehicles which they were driving when they stopped to visit the corn field, presumably to gather fodder for their horses.

Attorney Orson Lusk, who is said to be implicated with McKinney in alleged burglaries, escaped from the officers at New Philadelphia Tuesday night and has not been apprehended.

McKinney, who is well known here, his people residing in this city, will make the trip home from Tuscarawas county, but will not stop until he gets to the end of Mahoning street and proceeds up the wide driveway to the workhouse. Tuscarawas county prisoners are all incarcerated in the Stark county workhouse. McKinney had not been brought to the works this morning, but is expected before the day is over.
